Listen Up” some words from our campfire cook – Roger Folts, MLG
Fellow Ganders,

It’s been an exceptionally HOT July in Texas. July is almost over, so we are half way through the hottest part of the summer, let’s hope for a cooler August.

The Officers met for a half day on July 30th to outline plans and goals for the 2018-2019 Texas Pond year. We will report on that meeting to you’ll during the August meeting. There will be opportunities during the coming year for different meeting places and themes, and we invite any suggestions you may have. Any suggestion that will help us “spread the brand” of the Blue Goose, and specifically the Texas Pond will be reviewed seriously and given all consideration. Any Officer will be glad to listen to any idea or suggestion you may have. The more details presented with a suggestion, the better.

Please consider volunteering to help us all by serving on a Committee, fresh faces & ideas always make for a better Committee. We appreciate you giving serious thought to serving where you feel you will make the most of your experience, and thus we all will benefit. Thank you in advance.

I personally am thankful for Jim, Sharon, and Jason who have stepped up to serve as Officers of Texas Pond. And Linda, John & Ashley that give us a well-rounded wealth of knowledge on all that is Blue Goose.

Together we all can make 2018-2019 a great year for Texas Pond.

Dues Time

Ganders and/or current Goslings (someone who has completed an application) you can pay your dues on-line via a credit card at our Blue Goose website: www.bluegoosetx.Org. The option to pay by credit card will be available until September 30th. Dues on line via a credit card will be $55.00 for the year. Should you want to pay your dues via a check or cash the Texas Pond will accept dues for $50.00 at the meetings or one can mail them to Linda Meik.

BACKtoSCHOOL2018

Remember the joy of getting a new set of school supplies?

At Community Partners of Dallas, our kids are not approaching the start of school with the same excitement and support. Many will go back to school wishing for a new backpack or new uniforms. They just want to fit in.

This year we will provide backpacks filled with age appropriate school supplies and new uniforms to more than 3,500 abused and neglected children.

You can make a difference.

Donate. School supply donations can be delivered to Community Partners of Dallas' Central Location anytime between now and August 31st.

Last Month

The Texas Pond did not meet in the month of July. Two of our fine Ganders flew North to the Grand Nest Convention in Edmonton. Here is a quick overview on the convention followed by some pictures.

Grand Nest Convention Summary from Texas Pond Delegate, Jim Mathew

This was the second national convention I've attending, but I felt that I was among friends that I've known for some time. On the first evening of our gathering I came across several familiar faces that I first met last year. I was humbled by the ease in which our members entered into conversation with each other in a spirit of fellowship.

As is our tradition, we kicked off the official convention the next day with a guard presentation of the Canadian and American flags with the rousing sound of pipes. A thoughtful invocation from Andrew Happer, PMLG-Edmonton, set the tone for the Convention: let's remember why we're here- Fellowship, Character & Charity.

Our keynote speaker the first day was Diane Brickner, President and CEO of Peace Hill Insurance Co. She gave an encouraging talk about her experience with service in the community after having been at the receiving end of generosity during a difficult time. Whether it's paying forward or paying it back, I love being a part of this organization because I know that giving is good for my soul.

During our lunch the same day we heard from Shawn Kanungo, a strategist featured in Forbes, The Globe, The Guardian and spoke at TEDX. He brought us an ominous warning: "Your job will be taken over by robots. So, evolve or die." Shawn was encouraging those within the insurance industry to embrace technology and be prepared to make hard decisions. I got to speak with Shawn after his talk and asked him a few questions. I sincerely took his message to heart and have actually started looking into some of his recommendations.

In the late morning we held the Initiation for Goslings. The theme- "Toke Faire" was a hilarious approach in light of the fact that Canada is about to legalize marijuana. There were “Dudes” and “Wanna be Dudes” instead of Ganders and Goslings.

In the afternoon, we held our Regional Meetings. In the Southern Region we discussed some of the issues each Pond was facing and then members of each Pond offered recommendations. I will say, I felt our Texas Pond is doing a lot of good things and doing them right. But, there’s room for improvement and growth.

Later in the evening we went to a Ukrainian Culture Center where we were entertained with traditional dances, food, including cabbage wrap, perogies, and jello-shots!!!. I had the pleasant opportunity to sit with Michael Peck from Calgary, who had his two handsome boys with him. I got to talk to him about all of his hiking adventures in Calgary with his wife and boys and the very real dangers that wild animals in Canada present. There be grizzlies here.

The next day we held more meetings covering a number of issues such as our budget, voting for new Officers, and our Charity Report. Dan Rich of the Hartford Pond made an excellent point. If anyone wants to see what Blue Goose is about, read our Charity Report. It’s impressive.

Our final event together was the Dinner Banquet. It was a lovely evening of food and entertainment. I got to sit w/ Archie Gillis and his wife of the Nova Scotia Pond. Here’s a man who’s been with the organization for years and his love clearly shows. These Conventions really brings together from around the continent those who bleed blue. If you want to know the Blue Goose more, I encourage you to attend these Conventions. They’ve been instrumental in my understanding the purpose of this organization and I look forward to attending many more Conventions in the future.

Now for a peak at the convention via pictures:

Thoughts to Ponder

"Correction does much, but encouragement does more."
Johann Wolfgang von Goethe

"One life is all we have and we live as we believe in living it." Joan of Arc

"The world is becoming more complicated every day, my fellow citizens. No man ought to be foolish enough to think that he understands it all. And, therefore, I am glad that there are simple things in the world. One of the simple things is principle. Honesty is a perfect simple thing." Woodrow Wilson
